The First Superhero from New Jersey is Back!

His name is Melvin Junko. He was a nerdy 98 pound weakling, a lowly mop-boy at an upwardly mobile health club in Tromaville ("The toxic wast capital of the World"), New Jersey. Then one fateful day, after being teased tormented by the "Beat people" at the club, Melvin fell into a vat of toxic chemical waste. A scientifically horrifying transformation took place, turning poor Melvin into a DIRT...

Everybody wants to be a star these days...

Hot actor and U-D Alumni, Tim Pickering Finally made it to the big times... you can hear him on the Chevrolet commercials due out soon. Rumor has it he's been out to see Sam Ramie, in Hollywood. Break a leg Tim! Chrisie McCall, Follow your intuition... Hollywood's calling, I see it in the stars. Look for her to have a major recording contract by Spring. Also, Look for Brave New Waves host (CBC Radio), Brent Bambury on National Public Radio (NPR) in 1990. We've known this for for five five years, what's taken NPR so long? Maybe they've been working with Second self... Rumor has it the lead singer couldn't handle the pressures of a big time recording studio (Muscle Scholl's) and had to have a 700lb 32 track recorder flown into his basement in Grosse Pointe just because he got the jitters- Commenting that he could only do the vocal tracks on the new album while he was singing in the shower.

Bob Seger must be lonely out in his big ol' house in Bloomfield Hills, reports have come in faster than UFO sightings lately- having been seen on the prowl at several Detroit Nightspots, including Clubland, and even Maxies in Royal Oak on Halloween in his usual attire. I guess the 70's look made a good costume.

While the motor City was burning, The Castle was rockin'. The Best Halloween party had to be at Dale's... at the Castle, just a gunshot away from the Boogyin' Mansion- Complete with all three floors decorated for the night and a howling time had by all... until 6 in the morning. Future Parties not to miss: The Micro Times "FEAST OF THE BEAST" Party Thanksgiving Eve at the City Club... Indulge yourself in the seven Deadly Sins 9 p.m. till the morning of the Parade. Food will be served, Special Video Effects furnished by Thomas Video, and music sponsored by College Radio Stations. If you're in the Holiday spirit, Spend the night upstairs, and sober up at at a special brunch at Dagwoods- within walking distance from the Parade route. If you've never been to New York... ask a friend, they'll tell you.

If you're going out this week, say your last goodbyes to Al from Todd's, He'll be leaving for out West Thurs.; Then Hit the Guy Falks Ball at Cranbook Sat (9:30 p.m.) and show the old farts how the next generation is taking over (For Al's sake). Miles to go and promises to keep... see you at the next party!!!
